News and Updates from the Comprehensive Opioid,
Stimulant, and Substance Use Program
Collaborative at NYU

Personal or environmental risk factors may be predictive for the development of substance use disorder. This month, we highlight guidance by the American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) on SUD assessment and treatment. Included are a screening tool and a free course on treating alcohol use disorder, on September 25. ASAM is also partnering with the American Psychiatric Association to develop AMNet, a practice registry for addiction treatment. We hope you're managing to stay cool!
